Message of the Worshipful Master

Brethren:
It is with mixed feelings that I write this final Master's Message of my term. What a privilege it has been to serve this lodge over the past year as I have learned much about myself, this lodge, Colorado masonry and masonry worldwide. But I was also unable to accomplish all that I had hoped to in 2015, leaving me feeling a bit unfulfilled. The time has flown by so fast, and as expected, we lost some brothers, we have gained some brothers, we have been stewards of the lodge's business and most importantly advanced our masonic careers. As the world changes around us, so evolves masonry and our lodge. My focus this year has been to improve the fraternal relations of the brothers within this Lodge and also with other Lodges. Golden City is part of a special, informal group of lodges known as the "mountain lodges" and throughout the year we have had several joint events or visitations with the mountain lodges, including a fantastic "Welcome Back" BBQ in September. I am asking every brother in this Lodge to reflect on their activities of the year and ask themselves what they have done to encourage friendship, morality and brotherly love both within the Lodge and externally with all mankind.

November opened with Erik Carlson standing for his Fellowcraft proficiency and Thomas Feagans being passed to a Fellowcraft. What a great evening that was to refresh the brethren on their Fellowcraft work. We had a step-up night during our November 16th stated communication. Everyone in attendance did an amazing job, even though our attendance was light due to the inclement weather. I feel very comfortable in stating that the Lodge will be in great hands for 2016! Also during that meeting, one of our newest Master Masons, Wyatt Page, presented masonic education on the history of the apron. Very informative and it added a lot of context to the Apron Lecture.

December is going to be busy, yet predictable. Every year the Lodge starts the month with committee reports and the annual elections. Final work and report planning is underway by those committees that have work yet to accomplish. The month will end with dinner followed by the Installation ceremony, the Widow's Recognition ceremony, the Memorial Ceremony and the Annual Awards Ceremony. I request that you please submit your nominations to me for the Master Leadership, Outstanding Memory Work and Lifetime Achievement awards.

The 2016 officer line will pick up where 2015 has left off with a Master Mason raising or two, several proficiencies and a likely initiation. Work on the 7 projects will also continue. Please support the Lodge in these efforts, especially with learning the memory work associated with the various lectures. More depth is needed at all positions for us to continue to be a healthy Lodge.

If you have made your 2016 dues payment, thank you! If you haven't, please submit it as soon as possible!

Fraternally,

Kevin Alcox – Worshipful Master 2015
