Message of the Worshipful Master

Brethren:

This month I'm going to address the foundation for my year in the East: COMMUNICATION. As our daily lives are not balanced equally across the thirds of the 24" gauge and our lodge members are geographically dispersed, many even residing in "foreign countries", efficient and effective communication is the only way that we as a lodge and fraternity can become stronger. As a lodge, we need to know who we are communicating to, how we are communicating to the target audience, when we need to communicate with the target audience and of course what we are communicating.

With roughly 20% of our members regularly attending a stated communication, that is leaving 80% of our fraternity out of the regular communication event. This impacts the work of the fraternity whereby the principle of "many hands make light work" is not able to be applied. And at a time when the moral, ethical and leadership tenants of society are being called into question, never has there been a more relevant period for the work of Masons.

To that end, I am commissioning a skills and interests census. I need to know who to communicate with, how to communicate with you and what your skills and interests in the craft are. This census will be project of the entire lodge. After all, you are a member of this fraternity of your "own free will".

Technology can be our lever in communications. I have created a Technology Committee, which coincidently aligns with a similar initiative of the new GM and a few other lodges. Look for regular updates from this committee and be sure to regularly check our website out.

Message of the Worshipful Master

On a sad note, WB Brian Germann is leaving us to return to Alabama where a great job advancement awaits him. As a result, I will be replacing the Tyler. We wish him the best!

Fraternally yours, Kevin Alcox, WM
