Message of the Worshipful Master

Brethren:

Our activity level remains high. We actually had a meeting in May where we did not put on a degree which is both good and bad. It did allow us to complete some necessary business, in accordance with being a well governed lodge, but business is a distant second compared to the masonic education offered by a degree. And if you missed the May 18th EA degree for Wyatt Page (congratulations BTW Brother Wyatt!), you missed a truly magnificent performance by Brother Ryan Puckett. Not only did he lead the 1st Section as is customary here at Golden, but he also delivered the 2nd Section, 3rd Section and Charge. Virtually a one-brother show. And Brother Brian Finn passed his FC proficiency and is now ready for the Ghost Town raising. Next up, we have some FC degree work on June 1st.

A substantial number of new brothers; several brothers advancing to the next degree; the sickness and distress of many brothers; the discovery of brothers that would like to participate in lodge and cannot due to logistics; and the call of several by the Great Architect to the Celestial Lodge has had me thinking about the meaning of brotherly love within our fraternity. Religions describe brotherly love as an extension of the natural affection associated with near kin, toward the greater community, that goes beyond the mere duty in "love thy neighbor as thyself", to extend an unconditional hand of friendship that loves when not loved back, that gives without getting, and looks for what is best in others. Masons learn brotherly love includes helping a brother when it is within our power to do so, being willing to sacrifice for a brother or his widow and orphans in need; to love, not just in words, but truly, through deeds. Brotherly love is an art that has to be learned and practiced.

Fraternally,

Kevin Alcox – Worshipful Master 2015
